

OAHU TOO FAST EVEN FOR SPEEDY RIDERS OF MAUI

Second Round in Polo Tourney
Goes To City Men in
Speedy Contest

EXCELLENT TEAM WORK
DISTINGUISHES GAME

Oahu and Army Now Enter Finals
For Championship, With
Odds On Civilians

With both teams playing spectacular polo, Oahu defeated Maui, thirteen to seven and one-half, at the Kapiolani Park grounds yesterday afternoon in the second game of the Island polo championship tourney of 1917. The teamwork of both aggregations was excellent, but Oahu had the advantage in mounts, which were far the speedier, and to this alone can be ascribed Maui's defeat. Time and again the Valley Isle players would carry the ball nearly the length of the field, but invariably they would be overtaken by their opponents, to lose control of the ball as it neared their goal.

It can be safely said that the first seven periods were Oahu's. In only one did Maui have the best of it, and this was in the eighth, when it seemed as if they had a fighting chance to tie the score, and, possibly, to turn what seemed like certain defeat, into victory. But luck was against them, and, despite their daring horsemanship and brilliant playing, Oahu continued to roll up the score, making three goals in this chukkur to their one.

On the Ball
Walter Macfarlane, for Oahu, in the first half did sufficient in the scoring line for a full game, and the general belief of the fans present was that yesterday was his day. He was always near the ball and his aim was exceptionally accurate. Several times he carried the ball the length of the field for goals, while a back hand drive for a goal from a difficult angle brought particular applause for him in the fourth period.

Walter Dillingham scored six times which in itself indicates the brand of polo he played. Harold Castle and Arthur Rice were frequently applauded for spectacular playing.

An Upphill Fight
Both Sam and Frank Baldwin played an uphill game. They rode their ponies for all there was in them, but luck would not break their way, it seemed. A similar state of affairs existed with Harold Rice and Dave Fleming, for they lost several scores by the narrowest margins. Their teamwork was all that could be asked, for there was little, if any, individual playing. In fact, the game was characterized by an absence of "starring." But the Maui mounts lacked the speed, and speed was what was required in this contest.

Field in Good Shape
The field was in excellent shape, although spirited scrimmages resulted in much dust being raised. This, however, settled before reaching the machines parked along the field, although the players were at times bothered by it. In-and-Out and Helen C. two ponies owned and played by Walter Dillingham, easily were the class of the horse flesh on the field. In-and-Out played three periods and outran everything. Trainer Peter Hannon said this horse outclasses any polo animal that he has seen on the island in his time.

Taken all through, both the Maui and Oahu mounts are as good as one could see in the larger stables of the mainland.

Plenty To Cheer
A large crowd was present, all available parking space on the mauka side of the field being taken. The grandstand was nearly half filled and the first section of the Waikiki bleachers had few spare seats. A sprinkling of persons occupied seats in the Ewa bleachers. The Hawaiian band played between periods.

Maui and Kauai will play next Saturday afternoon. Each team has defeated one. Maui naturally is the favorite. They are better mounted and their organization is considered a little better than that of the Garden Islands.

Oahu will meet the Army team September 3. This will be the big game of the series for it will decide the Island championship. Oahu should win easily, although there is always a chance for a reversal of form. This applies also to the Maui-Kauai game next Saturday.

GAME BY PERIODS

Oahu got away in the first period to a good start, Walter Dillingham scoring after three minutes and a half of play. It was the only goal of the period. No penalties were imposed. Macfarlane carried the ball the length of the field, missing a goal narrowly. Dillingham made a long drive from the lower field. It was picked up by Castle who carried it along with a clear field. A mighty swing by him caused his mailed hand to become disengaged and the chance for goal was lost. The period ran over seven seconds. The first half of the chukkur was characterized by brilliant and spirited play. The last half was listless. Oahu 1, Maui 0.

Second Period
Maui was more progressive. Both teams were hitting well. Sam Baldwin rode daintily. Walter Macfarlane took the ball from a scrimmage and with his speedy mount, carried it the length of the field. His last drive carried the ball to the post, which it hit and bounced back. Though riding at great speed, he was able to check his horse, and drive the ball for a goal. This was made in four minutes and ten seconds. He scored again after six minutes and forty-one seconds of play. He made another goal on the overtime after the ball had sounded. Time, seven minutes and fifty seconds. Oahu 1, Maui 0.

Third Period
Sam Baldwin started the scoring for Maui, making a goal in three minutes and seven seconds. This was made after a desperate scrimmage at the posts. They apparently were over-anxious. Dillingham scored twice in rapid succession. His men plainly showed drilling in teamwork. A martingale broke on Castle's mount. Forty-three seconds were added to the play. Dillingham scored again in seven minutes and thirteen seconds. Oahu 1, Maui 1.

Fourth Period
Macfarlane scored. Time, one minute and fifteen seconds. He made a beautiful back hand drive from a difficult angle, after missing goal from a distance drive. It was the most spectacular goal of the day. Harold Rice scored for Maui. Time, two minutes and forty-one seconds. Rice started in this period. Harold Castle was doing exceptional work. Arthur Rice of Oahu scored. Time, five minutes and fifty-five seconds. Macfarlane fouled. Oahu penalized one-half point. Harold Rice of Maui scored again. Time, six minutes and fifty seconds. Oahu 3, Maui 3.

Fifth Period
Oahu's ponies in this period appeared fresher. They were certainly producing the speed. The ball saw-sawed back and forth, without much advantage to either side. Finally Castle of Oahu scored. Time, three minutes and eight seconds. Dillingham also scored. Time, four minutes and twenty-five seconds. Oahu seemed always to be where needed most. Fleming of Maui, saved Oahu 10, Maui 3.

Sixth Period
Field dusty. Much scrimmaging. Maui was unable to keep the ball in their territory for any length of time. Oahu, with speedy ponies, rode around them. Macfarlane fouled again for riding at a dangerous angle. Oahu penalized one-half point. Fleming scored for Maui. Time, six minutes and fifty-two seconds. The ball sounded for the close of the period. Ball was in play but Harold Castle drove to the rail which ended the period. Oahu 10, Maui 4.

Seventh Period
Sam Baldwin made a try. The ball struck a horse and bounded toward the line, but he made a quick recovery and scored. Time, three minutes and ten seconds. Maui was riding harder and Baldwin's goal seemed to give aid and encouragement. Fleming of Maui fouled for crossing in front of opponent. Maui penalized one-half point. Fleming saved. Harold Rice scored. Time, six minutes and fifteen seconds. Sam Baldwin scored. Time, seven minutes and thirteen seconds. Oahu 10, Maui 6.

Eighth Period
Maui rode hard, covering Oahu men well. Goal by Macfarlane. Time, one minute and thirty-one seconds. Sam Baldwin made a try. The ball struck the post and bounded out. Harold Rice of Maui, scored. Time, two minutes and forty-five seconds. Hard riding by both teams characterized the period. Harold Castle of Oahu, scored. Time, five minutes and three seconds. Maui's chances were lost. They played desperately to the last. Macfarlane scored. Time, six minutes and fifty-five seconds. Oahu 13, Maui 7.

The serving of beef and bacon is prohibited on Tuesday and Friday and at more than one meal on any other day. Substitutes, such as corn bread, oat cakes, potatoes, and so forth, must be provided at every meal at which white bread is served.

NAURU MISSIONARY TRANSLATING BIBLE

W. A. Bowen Tells Story of Delaporte's Failure To Return To South Sea Islands

For writing a letter to the American Missionary Board of Boston, in which he said that his sympathies naturally were with the land of his birth, Philip Delaporte, who was in charge of the missionary work on the island of Nauru when that island was under control of the German government, made himself strictly persona non grata with the English governor who was stationed there shortly after the outbreak of the European war.

W. A. Bowen, who is well acquainted with the facts of the case, in speaking of Mr. Delaporte last night, said: "Originally, Mr. Delaporte made some remark that was not popularly received and which, perhaps, might better have been left unsaid. He was cautioned by the American Board to be careful and hold himself strictly neutral at all times. Writing to the board, he said he would comply with their instructions, but that it was only natural that his sympathies should be with the land of his birth. This clause was written in order that his letter might pass the German censor. It went through to Boston, and there the error was made of having it printed in the Missionary Herald."

"The published letter found its way to the Islands which were then under English control. The English were very much wrought up over that part of the letter stating that his sympathies were with the land of his birth, so they immediately sent in a report to the American Board in which they said Delaporte was very much persona non grata. The board carefully considered the situation and seeing the dilemma in which he was in, decided that it was best for him not to return."

"The American Board turned over all care of the Nauru Mission to the London Missionary Society, since the English are in control of the island from a governmental point of view." Delaporte now in Iowa
Mr. Bowen says that Mr. Delaporte is now preaching to a German congregation in Muscatine, Iowa. He has been for a year, and is still continuing to read the proof of his Bible, which he has translated into the Nauru language from the English.

He is also attending to work connected with its publication. His work probably will be ready for the press within a month or two, at the latest.

MANY FROM MAUI TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Chairman of Promotion Committee Returns From Valley Isle

After having spent three weeks on Maui, Emil A. Berndt, chairman of the promotion committee has returned to Honolulu. On his trip he did a considerable amount of boosting for the civic convention and traveled extensively through the Valley Isle.

Maui will be well represented at the civic convention, Mr. Berndt believes. He says fifty or sixty delegates may be expected and that those who bring their wives and families will thus double the number of visitors from that island.

During his travels through the island and Mr. Berndt visited the cement works on the Maui Agricultural Company property near Paia. The plant has been completed and is expected to soon be in operation. It is to have an output of 200 to 300 barrels daily.

At the Haleakala rest house, he says, records of number of tourists accommodated are being broken this season.

MORE CARS ARE WANTED
TO CARRY PASSENGERS
New passenger coaches are to be added to the equipment of the Oahu railway when they can be obtained. Half a dozen or more are needed to accommodate the increased travel, Manager Smith says. This increase in passengers he attributes to the added number of soldiers at Schofield and to the construction work at Pearl Harbor.

Though the new cars are needed now and it is planned to place the orders it is not certain that they can be secured soon, since it is difficult and slow work to secure any equipment in which steel enters and there is a great demand for railroad cars at home and abroad.

BOOZE FLAGGING WELL-KNOWN JOCK

Opio, Famous Once On Local Track, Leaves His Number On Police Blotter

Opio, erstwhile premier jockey of the Hawaiian Islands, was booked for drunkenness at the police station last night. He presented a sorry sight in the receiving station, stupefied with booze, as he was, and blowsy and bleary-eyed.

Twenty years ago Opio, reigned supreme in local jockeydom. He was born at Waikapu, Maui, and learned all he knows about horses in the stable of Col. W. H. Cornwell, whose colors, silver grey with cerise maltese cross, were borne to the front in every important race of the Hawaiian turf, in the halcyon days of racing in these islands.

Besides riding for Colonel Cornwell, Opio numbered Col. Sam Parker, the late Prince David Kawamano and other notable island sportsmen among his employers. As a judge of pace Opio has had no equal among local jockeys, and he could also ride a rousing finish.

Opio, erstwhile premier jockey of the Hawaiian Islands, was booked for drunkenness at the police station last night. He presented a sorry sight in the receiving station, stupefied with booze, as he was, and blowsy and bleary-eyed.

Besides riding for Colonel Cornwell, Opio numbered Col. Sam Parker, the late Prince David Kawamano and other notable island sportsmen among his employers. As a judge of pace Opio has had no equal among local jockeys, and he could also ride a rousing finish.

"If I could graft Opio's hands on some Coast jockey whom I know," remarked a visitor here, several years ago, after seeing Opio in one of his best exhibitions of horsemanship, "I would own a jockey who could make a fortune for himself and, incidentally, a fortune for me."

Bulk Important
Opio couldn't stand prosperity and has never had the slightest idea of the value of money. On one occasion after winning a race which had landed a big sum in wagers for the owner of the winning horse, Opio was presented with five twenty-dollar gold pieces by the man for whom he had ridden, and who had won so well that he could afford to be liberal with his jockey. The jockey stared at the gold for a few moments and then demanded that he be paid in silver. He said he didn't mind how much money he was given so long as he had both his pockets full when he went up town to spend the evening with his friends.

Opio was always surrounded with a gang of parasites who stayed with him as long as his money lasted, and as a rule it didn't last very long. Easy come, easy go, was the case with the little horseman's earnings, and for the past year or so he has received fewer mounts at every local meeting.

His last notable success was when he beat the heavily backed Harvester over a distance of ground at Kapiolani Park a couple of years ago with Onetona.

At the recent meeting of the Hawaii Polo and Racing Association, Opio trained Golden Spray, which won a race for horses owned and ridden by Japanese. He was to have ridden Onetona in the mile and a half event in which a stable companion, Seabolt, was entered, but at post-time Jockey Rollins was put up in place of Opio and won.

TWO GERMANS ARE RELEASED ON PAROLE
Carl Koessler, a German, who was arrested for failing to secure a permit to reside and do business in the local restricted areas, was released yesterday on parole by the federal authorities.

Max Webber, recently employed as bookkeeper for the Pioneer Plantation company at Lahaina and who was arrested some time ago as a suspect in connection with the anthrax epidemic, will be released on parole this morning.

Koessler, after being held in jail for some time, was sent by the federal authorities to the Kipahulu Plantation, Maui, where work was found for him. About ten days ago Koessler was returned to Honolulu, having been unfit for any work which could be found for him by the manager of the plantation.

At Forest Hill

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)
FOREST HILL, Massachusetts, August 25—In the final round of the National Patriotic singles, played on the lawn tennis courts here for some time past, Lindley Murray defeated Nathaniel Niles.

Niles won the first set, but Murray's tactics, in a series of smashing drives, were responsible, mainly, for his winning the next three sets and the match, which wound up a particularly interesting series of tennis.

The scores were: 5-7, 8-6, 6-3, 6-3.

PUUNENE WILL RETURN TO MIXED DOUBLES TENNIS

Old Cups Not Played For Nine Years To Be Again Put Up As Trophies

To those interested in mixed doubles tennis, the announcement that the Puunene Athletic Club is to revive his form of the sport in a championship tournament to start next week, will be welcome news, says last Friday's Maui News of Waikuku. There are no restrictions on entries except that they must be made by teams in order that women and men will be evenly divided. Partners for the play will be decided by lot.

An interesting feature of the coming tournament is that the games will be played for the handsome cups of the association first offered and contested for in 1905. That year they were won by C. C. Krumpholtz and Rev. B. V. Jazana. Two men came to get the cups this first time seems not to be remembered. In 1906, however, the cups were won by Miss Ethel Taylor (Mrs. E. R. Bevins) and Theodore Nicholson. Miss Taylor also won the cup again in 1907, but lost it in 1908 to Miss L. H. Woods. H. E. Savage was winner of the men's cup in 1907, and Rev. E. B. Turner in 1908.

For some reason mixed doubles were then dropped as a part of the Puunene programs, and this is the first time that it has been undertaken since. The amount of interest among the women of central Maui in the game seems to insure its success. The first games of the tournament will begin next Monday.

McDermott Breaks His Own Record In Ten-mile Race

Long Distance Swimmer Clips

Seconds Off Former Time

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

DETROIT, Michigan, August 27—Michael McDermott broke his own record over the ten-mile long distance course in the Detroit River on Saturday by twenty-one and three-fifths seconds. This course is over a five-mile straightaway and return. He made the distance in one hour, forty-four minutes and forty-five seconds. This gives McDermott the long distance championship again.

McDermott's former record was one hour, forty-five minutes and twenty-three and two-fifths seconds. This he made last Labor Day, September 4, in the Mississippi River, at the meet held by the Missouri Athletic Association at St. Louis. He swam under the colors of the Illinois Athletic Club. Herman Laubis of the Missouri Athletic Club was second in this race; Clement Browne, Hamilton Club, Chicago, third; and E. M. Eaker, Missouri Athletic Club, fourth.

GIRLS' CLUB HOLDS SWIMMING MEET

Mermaids Disport Themselves In Water At Palama Settlement
Aquatic Tank

A swimming meet all their own was held by the Girls' Swimming Club at the Palama Settlement Saturday evening. There were sprints, plunge, distance, and exhibition events and the whole meet was a most successful one.

In the fifty-yard dash, Frances Farrington finished first, her time being thirty-seven and four-fifths seconds. Ruth Seybolt was second.

Thelma Kenna won the hundred yards in one minute and thirty-one seconds, Elizabeth Hueter being second.

An exhibition was given by Kathleen Law, she demonstrating how the porpoise handles itself in the water. This was a feature.

Norma Ross, not a member of the club, but a visitor and water enthusiast, gave a hundred-yard water disturbance. It was a screamer.

In the plunge for distance Frances Farrington made forty-one feet, which was quite a remarkable feat in its way. Corrina Wilbur was second, thirty-seven feet.

Helen Martin and Corrina Wilbur drew first and second places in the diving exhibition.

In the fifty-yard dash exhibition, race Gerd Hjorth proved herself a good swimmer.

The judges of the meet were Miss Ruth Farrington, Miss A. Coates and Miss F. White; timers—Miss C. Gifford, Miss M. Capps and Mrs. Arthur Armitage; scorer—Miss Gertrude Blake; starter—Miss Mele Williams, and referee—Mrs. S. F. Leo.

The whole meet was a credit to Miss Ruth Stacker, athletic coach and swimming expert in charge of the girls' division of the Palama Settlement.

MAUI NAMES NEW BALL COMMITTEE

Chairman R. A. Wadsworth, of the recently created athletic department of the Maui County Fair & Racing Association, which has taken over the functions of the old Maui Athletic Association, and is consequently handling the baseball series now in progress, has appointed the other members who are to act with him on the committee as follows: George Cummings, J. T. Fantom, J. Garcia, and E. A. Corson, says last Friday's Maui News of Waikuku.

The department held its first meeting on Monday night of this week to organize and to arrange for the games to be played here on next Saturday and Sunday with the visiting Hilo Japanese team. The committee also appointed M. G. Paschall as manager of baseball events on Maui for the present season.

COMPANY M OF SECOND INFANTRY BEATS MARINES

FORT SHAFTER, August 26—On Friday afternoon the baseball team from the Marine Corps at Pearl Harbor came in to Fort Shafter for a game with Company M of the Second Infantry. A large crowd of soldier fans watched the game, which ended in a victory for the doughboys by the score of 8 to 7 runs.

The sea soldiers had the advantage with the stick, securing thirteen hits off Loberg's delivery, while Sheldon held his opponent's to seven safe ones. Once on the bases, however, the marines lost their land legs and could not run the bases. Loberg was wild at times, but steadied in the pinches and pitched good ball.

DAIRY LANDS WILL BE CUT INTO LOTS

Subdivision of Lands Held By
Farm Will Be Three Years Hence

When the lease on the lands that were occupied by T. F. Farm for dairy purposes prior to the outbreak of anthrax in his herd expires, it will not be renewed. The lands, and other adjacent lands, are to be subdivided into building lots by the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company, it is reported.

The premises that are to be subdivided are held under lease by a hui of Chinese whose lease will expire three years hence. This hui had released the part that Farm used for his dairy. The trust company reports an active demand for lots in that section of Moiliili and expects that there will be a ready sale.

A slight blaze in the film room of a Japanese theater on Aala Street near Boretania, called out the central fire station about nine o'clock last night. The theater was crowded with Oriental patrons, and as soon as the presence of the blaze became known, they fled out in orderly fashion. The fire was soon extinguished. Damage was slight, only a few feet of film being destroyed.
